Dr. Carol Byrne Jones has worked in film, television and academia as a producer/director, performer and teacher, through the medium of both Welsh and English, in various countries. All forms of stories and creative story-telling interest her, whether in words, movement, music and sound, or picture. What stories do we tell? Why? How? What are the personal and collective narratives by which we interpret and give form to our inner and outer worlds?

Kirstie Simson (UK) has been a continuous explosion in the contemporary dance scene, bringing audiences into contact with the vitality of pure creation in moment after moment of virtuoso improvisation. Called "a force of nature" by the New York Times, she is an award-winning dancer and teacher who has "immeasurably enriched and expanded the boundaries of New Dance" according to Time Out Magazine, London. Kirstie is renowned today as an excellent teacher, a captivating performer and a leading light in the field of Dance Improvisation. She is a professor of dance at the University of Illinois, and continues to teach and perform all over the world.
